The Grand Union Group is an independent chain of seven Bar-Grill venues and one Pub-Restaurant situated within London and the Home Counties. GU prides itself in providing a relaxed, unpretentious atmosphere in beautifully designed venues. The Grand Union takes its name from its first site, which backs onto the Grand Union Canal in Camden (launched April 2006). Due to the success of this site, GU expanded to a second site in Twickenham (December 2006), followed by openings in Kentish Town (May 2007), Islington (December 2007), Kennington (February 2009), Brixton (February 2009) and Ravenscourt Park (May 2009). The Grand Union Group acquired The Three Locks Pub in December 2008.

The Grand Union Canal links London, the Chilterns and Birmingham via the longest single canal in Britain. The canal is a 1920s marriage of historic waterways which stretches 137-miles north to south, with many branches to towns along the way. As the main line from London to the Midlands, the Grand Union Canal was once one of the busiest in the country. Today, its charm lies in its diversity; it offers a wide variety of landscapes, wildlife, architecture, historic craft and buildings.
